When we first got together
You were just turned nineteen
And I'd have never dreamt
All the things I'd seen
All the nights that you'd left me
Standing there like a fool
And all the nightmares and flashbacks
The tables are turning soon
They're turning soon
And its all, all over now
All over now

I'm not pointing a finger
I'm not saying its your fault
I had so many chances
To get up and walk away
I must have been blind
As a person can be
If love can do that
Then that's what it did to me
And its all, all over now
All over now
Oh don't criticise me
I can't understand
How someone like me
Could have sacrificed all he had
All the time i spent chasing
To the pool hall from school
No education could have stopped me
From being such a fool
I was such a fool
And its all, all over now
