It can get you to go higher
Higher than you ever thought you'd go
Wheel you in a spiral
On a journey to the great unknown
Where nature and her forces
Constitute the only truth
I love it most of all
The wisdom of youth
It can spur you on to greatness
To triumph over nagging fears
To overcome all obstacles
The vision of your destination clear
And it lets you choose the reckless
And oftentimes the most dangerous route
I love it most of all
The wisdom of youth

I wish I had it back again
The urge to sip from every mountain stream
Where every season promises
A host of golden, open-ended dreams
And every mornings joyful
With the prospect of the days and nights to come
I love it most of all
The wisdom of the young
O beautiful innocence
O wisdom of youth
Will you walk with me a while
Down laneways walled with summer fruits
And in the silence of the evening
We'll look west at the last light of the sun
Fading away
I love it most of all
The wisdom of the young
It's the God's honest truth
You can't bate the youth
The God's honest truth.
