May peace find you tonight
Like a breeze through your window,
Sit by your light.
Let it warm by your fire,
And laugh with delight.
Like a heavenly choir
May peace find you tonight

You've got your God -- Sister, I've got mine
And I know he's out there somewhere; he bails me out sometimes
And I've always believed, but sometimes I question the truth
All the proof that I need is the love that I found in you

May peace find you tonight
Like a breeze through your window,
Sit by your light.
Let it warm by your fire,
And laugh with delight.
Like a heavenly choir
May peace find you tonight

May your soul reunite with the one that you lost long ago
May a troublesome heart be a feeling you'll never know
May your spirit be free as a wind on the wings of a dove
May your heart know the way loud and clear, like a voice from above

May peace find you tonight
Like a breeze through your window,
Sit by your light.
Let it warm by your fire,
And laugh with delight.
Like a heavenly choir
May peace find you tonight

Like a heavenly choir
May peace find you tonight
