(Willy Braun, Chris Schelske)

I know some day you're gonna realize
Not every little thing's gonna work out the way you'd like
And I know that there ain't no other man alive
Who'd do the things that I've done for you
There ain't no other guy
Who would cross that line that I just walked for you.

Hey, little dreamer, take a look around
All these things you've found
That keep you strung out and wound up 'til now
That same old song's been playing all night long
Will it take you high enough, or keep you on the ground
I hope your tired eyes will finally come alive
For it's too late too touch down.

Well, I know some day that you'll be the one to say
I was crazy and I never had a clue
'Cause if I never knew those things that you'd go through
When you told me you'd found a way to kill the pain
Make it all brand new.

Hey, little dreamer, take a look around
All these things you've found keep you strung out and wound up 'til now
That same old song's been playing all night long
Will it take you high enough, or keep you on the ground
I hope your tired eyes will finally come alive
For it's too late to touch down

God I hope your tired eyes will finally come alive
For it's too late to touch down...
