(Willy Braun)

From Milton to Chelsea I've learned a lot
Some I still have, and some I ain't got
Well there's one thing I learned and it still rings true
Well there's nothing more lonely than lonely for you.

Now I'm torn up inside (torn up inside)
Torn up inside (torn up inside)
Torn up inside, baby (torn up inside)
Torn up inside
Torn up inside over you (over you.)

Well I never knew love until I met you
I thought I did once, but that was a fluke
Ah, you come along, and you stole my heart
Well your huggin and kissin', it tore it apart

Now I'm torn up inside (torn up inside)
Torn up inside (torn up inside)
Torn up inside, baby (torn up inside)
Torn up inside
Torn up inside over you (over you.)

I never wined and dined you
I never showed you the world
I knew that all you wanted
were those three little words.

You didn't want money
You didn't need jewels
You just wanted love
And I phucked that up, too.

And now I'm torn up inside (torn up inside)
Torn up inside (torn up inside)
Torn up inside, baby (torn up inside)
Torn up inside
Torn up inside over you (over you...)
