stop your nonsense my dear i know you need attention so slash an artery... you are so transparent can't see your own reflection you look the same to me...

now let go...

this baby popped my heart
he fell to pieces, he turned cold he never did what was told this baby sucked me dry he cried some milk, he turned to stone he took his ball and he went home

baby dracula
oh baby dracula
baby dracula

your romantic notion won't hide your pale complexion or vulnerability... and it hurts to know you won't be the one exception... here's a philosophy

just let go...

oh, baby dracula
baby dracula
oh, baby dracula

you've lost your relevance mr. black i gave you everything, give it back you won't win and i'll tell you why you've betrayed a person who bleeds but wont die red is your reason and alibi sucked off everyone, say good-bye when your narrow coffin's rotting from the inside then you know to let go, think its time you tried
