There's no use to try and suppress
It's always there reminding
The one wound that never forgets
Open and undying

Always alive, always inside
And no one comes out the same
Love always leaves a mark
The scars give it all away
Burned in your heart
Love will leave a mark

Twisting, tearing apart
Holding me together
Changing every thought
Haunting me forever

Always inside
And no one comes out the same
Love always leaves a mark
The scars give it all away
Love will leave a mark
With every tear in every sound
Consumed with the fire that never burns out
Finding a way through the dark
Love will leave a mark

And no one comes out the same
Love always leaves a mark
The scars give it all away
Love will leave a mark
With every tear in every sound
Consumed with the fire that never burns out
Finding a way through the dark
Love will leave a mark
Love will leave a mark
