I bet you've never felt so distant
Yet we're close enough to touch
Keep bringing that heavy breathing
The game is on

You are just a little too easy
And I try my best to crack a smile
Keep holding on to silly things
That make no sense
It makes no sense at all

Is it in the way you move,
The way you speak so daringly?
Is it lying on the bathroom floor
With nothing more to say?

Little miss obvious
Wipe the make up from your face
And go tell all your friends
That I'm the only one
Little miss obvious
I know that we've seen better days
But you still tell all your friends
That I'm the only one

Am I the only one?

It's funny how we're both pretending
To give a shit about it all
We both know where this is leading
I know the game by now, so tell me

Is it in the way you move,
The way you speak so eloquently?
Is it leaving straight through that door
With so much more to say?

I'll go ahead and show you to the door
I'm not the one you're looking for

Little miss obvious

Wipes the make up from her face
And she keeps telling all her friends
That I'm the only one

Little miss obvious
Wipe the make up from your face
And go tell all your friends
That I'm the only one
Little miss obvious
I know that we've seen better days
So go f**k all my friends
Just to see if I still care at all
