I feel like a stranger, a drifter in danger
Who's rescued by a smiling little boy
Just like an infidel watching the miracle
I long to share with you my sudden joy

In love I trust

In mighty love I swear I trust, it lights a million fires
Now, at last, you hold me tight in your arms
And feel my body that becomes bad will desires
In love I trust, in love I trust

Don't ask for my name - I'm only a flame
To burn your lips and stay alive and bright
You're all I've been dreaming, you're all I've been fearing
In endless struggles, every lonely night

In love I trust

In mighty love I swear I trust, it lights a million fires
Now, at last, you hold me tight in your arms
And feel my body that becomes bad will desires
In love I trust, in love I trust
