It's a game: Lazy Daisy,
She arrives when I leave
Risky preaching,
Oh, such gallantry
And I have guilt in my knees
So respected: Lazy Daisy,
She can move me, with the kink of her spine

It's a shame, watching carnivores
It's emotion on T.V.
You're a strange bird, Lasy Daisy,
But you know what I mean

And the season changes colors,
Only not for me,
There are never any others,
Only one I see, only one I see
By my doorstep, through my window,
Can't you see?
Lasy Daisy, I'm your carnivore
