

HeyMike! "It's Nice To Choose"

Out here there's more or less, time to spare, and I'm aware
My rights to love this test, to undo stress, and to learn to guess
That I'm not so harmless, my victory's not tarnished
I'm living, the best dream

Try beating me up sometime and the notes as follows:
Well, you're reading it now

You'll never kick me down to your level
Where the rules are handed down
I like to be honest, it's nice to choose
I'm made up a motion now, to read the lines aloud
And not be shutdown
A whole life of lowlights, and complicating van rides
Is for me, because I can see

You'd rather be locked inside of a box till no end
Eating your doubts

Fed up and madder, 'til your head spins to the thought of a trip
When you know it's not allowed
I like to be honest, it's nice to choose
I'd like to be honest, you've one life to lose
