I just don't know what to do anymore.
Everywhere I go, I'm so alone.
Even if I've got company,
I don't like having people around.

God, please, send down a message.
Will this be all over soon?
Should I wait, or should I do something?
I just don't know what to do.
God, please, let me know when.
I could get up and be myself.
Should I believe, should I even smile?
Why am I always under a gray cloud?
Will this all be over soon?

I just don't know what to do anymore.
Outside it's sunny, but inside it's cold.
I can't bare to look at myself in the mirror.
I'm just not what I used to be.

God, please, send down a message.
Will this be all over soon?
Should I wait, or should I do something?
I just don't know what to do.
God, please, let me know when.
I could get up and be myself.
Should I believe, should I even smile?
Why am I always under a gray cloud?

Should I wait? Should I do something?
Will you send me, will you send me a message.
Cause I believe in you, I believe you can make me smile.
And until we meet again up in Heaven.
Will you please help me, deal with this life?
Cause I can't even think, without thinking of you.
And if you're looking down at me (if you're looking down at me)
Will this all be over soon? Will this all be over soon?

God, please, send down a message.

Will this be all over soon?
Should I wait, or should I do something?
I just don't know what to do.
God, please, let me know when.
I could get up and be myself.
Should I believe, should I even smile?
Why am I always under a gray cloud...

Will this all be over soon?
