Somebody's stolen fire from heaven
Maybe the skies have been broken
Somebody's taken fire from heaven
How could we be so mistaken?

Try not to ask how long
Try to forget the last living song
As the eagle unending, the planet pretending

I've got a message to leave the dawn
Just as the torment is ending
I am the eagle that lingers on
I am the violence descending

Somebody's stolen fire from heaven
Maybe the skies have been broken
Somebody's taken fire from heaven
How could we be so forsaken?

Somebody's stolen fire from heaven
Maybe the skies have been broken
Somebody's taken fire from heaven
How could we be so mistaken?
Try not to ask how long
Try to forget the last living song
As the eagle unending, the planet pretending

I've got a message to leave the dawn
Just as the torment is ending
I am the eagle that lingers on
I am the violence descending

Somebody's stolen fire from heaven
Maybe the skies have been broken
Somebody's taken fire from heaven
How could we be so forsaken?
