It's the wicked way
I've been trapped away for all time
I can see daylight dancing on night where the darkness can hold me

I hear you cry
Confusion is leading the way
I want to try but I'm locked
In this cage of mine

It's the loving way
That you say my name all the time
I can feel the night with you by side, but will darkness release me?

I hear you cry
Locked away in your cage
I want to try but I'm caught
In this maze of desire

Don't you hold me anymore
I'm free to love, let my heart explore
Feel it inside me calling to get out
Trusting, say it, labyrinthine heart

Through the corridors
Yours forevermore, and you're mine
I can see the daylight with you by my side and no walls to enclose me

(And) I hear your voice
Softly it's leading the way
No longer alone, for this hope will always remain

Don't you hold me anymore
I'm free to love, let my heart explore
Feel it inside me calling to get out
Trusting, say it, labyrinthine heart
