Wake up, wake up, it's time to go
Come take my hand, I just wanna show you
The world, the world we are living for

Your face, your face so clear to me
You shine so bright how love should be
We drift away into infinity

Tonight
We're gonna be alright
Much better than the last time
We're alive

You and I
We dance under the city lights
Right before the stars collide
We will rise above the night

Live up, live up, now it's time to breathe
We don't need science nor philosophies
Your eyes so blue I can't believe, no, no

I swear, I swear our love will last
We're burning bridges from the past
And I will give you all I have yeah

Tonight
We're gonna be alright
Much better than the last time
We're alive

You and I
We dance under the city lights
Right before the stars collide
We will rise above the night
