said I loved you and you laughed you didn't think i was serious but you know better now cause now I'm the girl with the broken heart the one who's loved you from the start this smile is just a coverup for the pain that lies between us so go away you've done your part and i'm the girl with the broken heart you wiped my tears, you held my hand you held me up when i couldn't stand you made me weak you made me strong your the reason i held on and now your gone
and I'm the girl with the broken heart
I look in the mirror and see the girl you left behind but i smile and laugh and play along but still i know in my mind that I'm the girl with the broken heart
the one who's loved you from the start
