To make thee mine
I cast a net as wide as I am free
Line by line
Erase the schemes that I'm drawn to believe
There's no fear anymore
Crystalline the truth, assumes to bleed
There's no fear anymore
Burn the bridge outside

If I'm gonna live
If I'm gonna live
Without you
If I'm gonna live
If I'm gonna live
Without you

If I can't live without you
I feel alone
Walking home
All by myself
I've never chased
A brighter sun
Than you'll become

I mistook you for a trust
Invocations I must dust off
Fresh bouquets to playfully collect

Even though
You've seen the show
I've saved the best for last
A cannonball
Shot stern to bow
To warn the crowd
I fall in love
From my guts
My arms are twined to switch
And in repose

A silent rose
Burns the bridge outside

If I'm gonna live
If I'm gonna live
Without you
If I'm gonna live
If I'm gonna live
Without you
If I'm gonna live
If I'm gonna live
Without you

To make thee mine
I call upon the wisdom of my age
Blow by blow
Chase the bees of the death song's wings
There's no crying anymore
Crystalline, the bridges burn outside
Stitches will all come undone

If I'm gonna live
If I'm gonna live
Without you

What comes must all come out at once
Of us

If I'm gonna live
If I'm gonna live
Without you

I've never chased
A brighter sun
Than you'll become
What comes with all
The breaking dawn
But I'm on its side
