"Place For Girls Like You"

Fate has planned a place for girls like you who torture guys like me
And the time for all bad things to end will surely come to me
The world will turn it's back on those who never can be true
And you'll find out that fate has planned a place for girls like you

I've tried so hard to be the way you wanted me to be To give you things you wanted most but still we disagree
Each time I try to change my life to fit the way you live I find that you just made new plans for more than I can give Fate has planned a place...
Yes you'll find out that fate has planned a place for girls like you
