[Intro] Yo, it is what it is you know what I'm sayin'?
Homeboy Sandman. It is what it is. It is what it is and it isn't what it was and what it ain't Is another dime a dozen I don't coven I create When there's nothin' in my cupboard I be guzzlin' V-8 I'm concerned by how the government and governor behave I'm fed up with all the rubbish that the youngins emulate Yesterday I cuddled with a couple of Malasians Play me in the summer with a cup of lemonade I don't knuckle up but on a couple of occasions Hate when undercovers run amok at the parade Homie I grew up without a butler and a maid Homies get a cut of every buck I'll ever make Since my rubber ducky I've been lucky with the dames Ever though I'm never up to spend a ducket on a date If you're luckin' for a sucker keep your number and your name I don't give a motherfuck where you reppin' about your weapons and your cash Motherfucker you can blow it out the rectum of your ass Drop me off in any sector, any section of the map In about a second I'll successfully adapt Every second's millisecond I be workin' on my craft I be runnin' rap but I will never catch a cramp Because before I make a record I be stretchin' out my calves And I could never write graf But I could always write raps I think about the days when chicks was walkin' right past But now they call me right back So I suggest you go ahead and wave your white flag And brush your teeth and fight plaque And since you never know what a woman might have Keep a jimmy hat Cause you don't wanna catch crabs My alliances with lions are lines on the left When it comes to science we the brightest and the best When we step up in the party, the party commence Any time we rock a party watch for cardiac arrest When your party's so lethargic, you need an EMS Hit my Motorola I'll be over in a jif As a whippersnapper I was known to shoot the five And I wind up in the principles where I would plead the fifth Chicks not into gettin' physical simply do not exist I hold it down [Outro] Ummm...Yo, there is no spoon. There is no spoon. Peace
