

Refused "Tide"

Chain down the pain
Abstinence remains
To hold me down
In a tone of desperation

It's never gonna be the same
It might have been me
So caught up in ego supremacy
Cut lose the wires of connection
Put it to an end

Reach on to higher levels
If I could try and find a way
I will not be pushed aside
Where there's darkness there's light

And I thirst for more right now
I'm looking for redemption
And the truth inside these walls
What's left in the distance
But my thoughts of fire?

My spiritual edge of guidance
Will lead the way
I will not be pushed aside
The tide is coming in
And I won't lose my ground
