Our love, girl, is going through changes I don't know if I'm alive, dead, dying or just a little jaded Someone throw me a line You know I need it, I need it bad Lost in a maze of my own making No way out that I can find, send home your hard working jury I'm going down this time You'd better believe it, yes, you had So if you hear me crying, or talking in my sleep Don't be afraid, it's just the hours that I keep We gotta love to last for a million years A love that could never fade through the tracks of your tears All I can do is hope that you will see me fall Do your best to smash my picture on your wall Forgive me baby, absolve me, my dear I've seen the future in the tracks of your tears I've seen the future in the tracks of your tears of your tears, of your tears I cast a shorter shadow with every passing day No time to think I'm just fading away SOme kind of magic in all your hopes and fears Show me the future through the tracks of your tears
