

The Stranglers

"Toiler On The Sea"

Visit "Toiler On The Sea" on MotoLyrics.com

I had a woman ship
I took her overseas
She left her hold unlocked
I had to find a dock
I was a toiler on the sea
I was a toiler on the sea

We didn't use cruel words
To navigate cruel seas
The wind was biting hard
At times I had to scream
I was a toiler on the sea
I was a toiler on the sea

And when we reached the land
We went aground on the rocks
Became a wreck in the sand
Became a home for a flock
We ventured overland
Fought with the aliens
The young ones used their hands
Pointed the way to a flock
A flock of seagulls
A flock of Seagulls
A flock of seagulls

Then we retraced our steps
Rebuilt the woman ship
I took her back up North
I lost her in the fog
I was a toiler on the sea
I was a toiler on the sea
/]

Visit The Stranglers page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.