I saw a road that had no end
I wanted you
So I followed it
And what you take is what you should give
But the stories came
And the stories went
I gave so much of myself to you
But that's alright
I wanted to
Nothing learned don't know what to do
There's no lesson here
I'm losing you

Now you wanted nothing we talked about
I thought I had
You figured out
I had so much to give you now
I was sure of you
But you had your doubts
Now don't you worry you're not to blame
I've been on your side
Playing those games
Now you're just in a different place
There's nothing left
Let's walk away
