Somewhere in a scrap book
There's a rose you gave to me
And the photograph that's torn in half
And all that's left is me

Then happily ever after
That came after I was gone
And they tell you that you can't go back
Then why can't I go on?

When I should be laughin' at this joke
Dressed up as love, disguised as hope
And isn't it funny after all this time
A tear is fallin' when I should be laughin'?

Sunsets are like a painting
Windows like a frame
The night comes in
And I begin to see it all again

'Cuz I should be laughin' at this joke
The damage done, the words I spoke
And isn't it funny after all this time
Regret can find me when I should be laughin'?

I should be laughin' at life
And all of the tricks that it plays
I should be laughin' at time
And how fast it's slippin' away

Somewhere in a scrap book
There's a rose you gave to me
And with one last look, I close the book
And let the past just be

'Cuz I should be laughin' at this joke
Dressed up as love, disguised as hope
And isn't it funny after all this time
A tear is fallin'?

I should be laughin' at this joke
Dressed up as love, disguised as hope

And isn't it funny after all this time
A tear is fallin' when I should be laughin'?

I should be laughin'
