What if I touch you
What if you like the way you feels
What if I tell you
What should never be reviewed
An imagination starts running while
Like the inner sense of a little child that my lips pull the young nicks smile
Like water pulling down upon my face
And I'm running over every taste
And there's no way escape
I can't catch my breath
What if it happens
What if we go through soul control
What if it takes us
To the case we lose our souls
What if, what if ~
What if we do it
What if we go and cross deadline
What if we choose it
If you want we have be high
And I'm want to know that nobody is twist
The way given The world we can't resist
And I'll passes scream for every kiss
Like fire
Running through a vans with crane
The danger rope Just wanna to braze the weekend a race
There's no turning back
What if we happen
What if we go through soul control
What if it takes us
To the case we lose our souls
What If we make love
What if we walking through the frames
What if it happens, happens
We ever ever, ever be the same Imagination starts running while
Like the inner sense of a little child that my lips pull the
young nicks smile
Like water pulling down upon my face
Then I'm running over every taste

There's no way escape
I can't catch my breath
What if it happens
What if we go though soul control
What if it takes us
To the case we lose our souls
What if we make love
What if we walking through the frames
What if it happens
When we have, have Ever ever be the same
Yeah
Will be ever be the same
What if I plains your games
What if
