I've got everything
That I could ever need
It's under lock and key
Just survive all alone me and my screens

I am living a virtual life
We've got everything here inside, come on
I am living a virtual life
We've got everything here inside, come on

I don't need a car
Why should I leave?
When human contact
Is replaced by my TV screen

I am living a virtual life
We've got everything here inside, come on
I am living a virtual life
We've got everything here inside, come on

I am living a virtual life
We've got everything here inside, come on
I am living a virtual life
We've got everything here inside, come on
