"Saving Face"

Stains on the floor remind me about
A bottle of cheap wine
That I smashed and released all demons
Cut my hand cleaning the glass
Scar to remind me
That I need to slow it down

Well, I'm just saving face
Makes it easier to forget about it
I'm locked out of your place, again
So I sit at home, and I smoke alone
And wait to disappear without a trace

Now I'm standing single file
Twist the plot line
Now it's time to release all demons
I thought I was invisible, just unconscious
So I'm kinda waking up

Well, I'm just saving face
Makes it easier to forget about it
I'm locked out of your place, again
So I sit at home, and I smoke alone
And wait to disappear without a trace

I just never thought
I'd get away with starting over
Giving it a shot, anyway
So I squint my eyes, at a new sunrise
Now's the time
