You were a hit and run I never could've known
Beautiful and bright with a heart like gold
Time ticked and I kicked the dust from my eye
Your heart was a stone where all darkness lie

I wanna run from you
Not feeling like I should but that's just what you do
I'm trying to let go let loose
But with that grip that you got there's not much I can do

Well I wake myself up
Trying to walk away from
What I feel

Since a boy you've been there
Holding out holding out
For the steal

And now you've got me
Right where you want me

Do what you do then let me loose to find another you oh my baby

I wanna run from you
Not feeling like I should but that's just what you do
I'm trying to let go let loose
But with that grip that you got there's not much I can do

Woah Woah oh

Oh I said no so let go
But I wont

I wanna run from you
Not feeling like I should but that's just what you do
I'm trying to let go let loose
But with that grip that you got there's not much I can do

I wanna run from you
Not feeling like I should but that's just what you do

I'm trying to let go let loose
But with that grip that you got there's not much I can do
