"Easy To Forget"

Run, hide from the sun, and follow the tracks laid by a thousand losers
Some, who never believed, who never could read between the lines of love Do I feel better now-I mean I think I gotta get you back somehow
I tried to drink you off my mind, but I haven't yet
No you're not easy to forget
Easy to forget
Fate opened the gate, and emptied the house dry for an alibi
But you crawled to the edge, and hammered a wedge between my heart and soul Do I feel better now-I mean I wish that I could get to you
somehow
I tried to drink you off my mind, but I haven't yet
Oh you're not easy to forget
Easy to forget
Baby let me take you home-I got a record that I think you used to own Baby let me take you home-It'll be like when we met Now is that easy to forget?
Do we know any better now-I mean I think we've got to get in touch somehow
I tried to drink you off my mind, but I haven't yet
Oh you're not easy to forget
Easy to forget
Easy to forget
No you're not easy to forget
No you're not easy to forget
Ooooooooooh.....no you're not easy to forget
