Feel Good

(Sweet Water)

Come out into the sun

Leave your coat at home, you don't need it

Step outside your bedroom door

Some kind of love is hard to find

And you're hard as nails

And cold as stone

But I've seen some cracks begin to show

If you've lost your spirit, I'll give you mine

If you've lost your spirit, I'll give you mine

I know you been pushed around

I know you been kicked around

But it's over now

Fill your pockets, take what you need

Just a crutch, to help you on your way

Past your dreams, into the unknown

Everybody needs a friend, don't be ashamed

You're no worse for the wear

I'll lick your wounds clean

I'll lick them clean

If you've lost your spirit, I'll give you mine

If you've lost your spirit, I'll give you mine

I know you been pushed around

I know you been kicked around

But it's over now

But it's over now

Let it go

Before it drags you down

Before it pulls you down

Let it go

Before it drags you down

Before it pulls you down

Before it drags you down

I know you been pushed around

i know you been kicked around

But it's over now

It's over now
