Now as the darkness falls
I close my eyes
And I dream of you
Each little memory calls
And takes me to the time
When our story began
Everything wrapped in you
The happy days that we spent together
Funny I never knew
How quickly love could change
Leaving sorrow and pain
There was a spring
I still remember
When we were one in a world of our own
But then the days moved on to December
And you were gone
Now as the darkness calls
I close my eyes
And I think about you
Each little teardrop falls
And takes me to the time
When our story began
Now as the darkness falls
Goodnight
