Tell me I've been dreaming or did I hear you right now you say you want me back again you play with my emotions a game I know so well from now on, I'm changing the rules We're living in the real world forget about your land of fantasy can't you see, it isn't worth the pain you know I'm not the same girl the one who used to hang around with you change your mind
and it could set you free try living in the same world You've taken me for granted and hurt me with your lies don't you know I'm nobody's fool emotions have their uses and broken hearts can mend used to cry, but not anymore We're living in the real world
you know I'm not the same girl
try living in the same world
We're living in the real world
you know I'm not the same girl
change your mind
