You came into my life
Lightening the darkness
I was feeling
I tried to play for time
To hold on to the heart
That you were stealing
Somewhere deep inside
I knew that I was wrong
My thoughts kept going back to you
The place where I belong
Everywhere I look
It's so much brighter
No matter how I turn
It seems I'm turning back to you
What are we waiting for
The world is at our door
You've given me hope
And so much more in my life
You couldn't find your way
Couldn't see the chance
That you were taking
I somehow knew someday
You'd understand the choices
You were making
Somewhere up above
Like a circle round the sun
A line would draw you back to me
The place where you belong
Everywhere I look
It's so much brighter
No matter how I turn
It seems I'm turning back to you
What are we waiting for
The world is at our door
You've given me hope
And so much more
Now we both have love to cling to Happiness and joy to bring to
Each and every new day's dawning
Brighter than the brightest morning
Deeper than the seas and more
Than anything I've known before

It's so much more,
It's so much more
Everywhere I look
It's so much brighter
No matter how I turn
It seems I'm turning back to you
You've given me the key
And I have opened up the door
You give me love
And so much more in my life
Everywhere I look
No matter how I turn
It seems I'm turning back to you
You've given me hope
Everywhere I look
It's so much brighter...
