Make it last just keep it pure
Reckless guilt does not exist
Raise this mast and leave the shore
Blind are all who cannot resist

While you sleep I sit and wonder
If you are flying in your dreams
My heart restrains and all come undone
When this angel rises from her sleep

Minds intertwine and grinding softly
Perfected senses but not seen
Sometimes a blur and most confusing
A dream like this has never been

While you sleep I sit and wonder
If you are flying in your dreams
My heart restrains and all come undone
When this angel rises from her sleep

So I'll always be around you
There to hold you when you fall
Hope you will always be around me
'Cause when you smile inside I float up high

While you sleep I sit and wonder
If you are flying in your dreams
My heart restrains and all come undone
When this angel rises from her sleep
