"Cat Claws"

You tried to make me hate you
I tried to break you down
Never put out the fire in me
So take this air now
Or let me drown

You got to understand
You got to let me be your man
Never escape this wonderland

Window pane I saw right through you
There reflected on the other side
Dirty lies will never breach me
With my head in the sand
And my eyes close wide

You got to understand
You got to let me be your man
Never escape this wonderland

You really disappoint me
I might have pissed you off
And now cat claws rip down through me
Bad habits brush it off

You got to understand
You got to let me be your man
Never escape this wonderland

You got to understand
You got to let me be your man
Never escape this wonderland
