How could I live so long not breathing
Dirty water don't feel so well
Must have thought I could last forever
Try to live for today you said

Do you really want what you see
What would you give up for me

Got to learn to control this temper
Could be my own fear that I smell
Lock me up it will work much better
I bang my head on the wall again

Do you really want what you see
What would you give up for me
Do you really want what you hate
Be ashamed you came too late

To wash away this stain ain't easy
Keep it all in your mind and please don't tell
Leave yourself for another body
I always wanted to be a girl

Do you really want what you see
What would you give up for me
Do you really want what you hate
Be ashamed you came too late
