It could have been a story
It could have been a lie
It should have been glory
Well it taught me to cry
Do you believe in destiny
Can you see what I see

So tell me now
That you are a believer
A wicked soul and a dreamer
So tell me now
That you do have this fever
Baby to live forever

It could have been a journey
It could have been a sign
But when you fall it's reality
Well baby I know you still love me
Do you believe in destiny
Can you see what I see

So tell me now
That you are a believer
A wicked soul and a dreamer
So tell me now
That you do have this fever
Baby to live forever

So baby don't think too much
Or you might lose your mind
Just close your eyes and count to ten
And who knows what you will find

So tell me now
That you are a believer
A wicked soul and a dreamer
So tell me now
That you do have this fever
Baby to live forever
