Leave my bed warm and I'll breathe in your smell
You shouldn't tell a single soul you know it's red I wanna shout it out it's killing me to hold Hold it in my head when there's barely room for me

And I say your name in the darkness like you could be there
And I miss you more when I'm coming down and I fear
the door

You leave my brain in knots that I'll never quite unfurl
I can't make head nor tail of this fizzing on my tongue
Both my hands are tied so I can't pick up the phone Even if I wanted to by god I don't

And I say your name in the darkness like you could be
there
the door
