Come now sister don't you wait for the sky to clear
I have never seen it rain so truly
Let's find somewhere to sleep this bus stop's sinking like a pier
They can wait till morning or a week, or two

I came here not for love but for the possibility
Of setting free the love we knew for all of time
Don't you remember I said that I would not forget
Your memory is safe with me
And you're heavenly

The strangest things come to me in my sleep
Climb the rolling hills ever so steep
And I don't recognize you, nor you me
Still we know each other so well
I will be the hunter and you can light the fire
Keep it burning until I return
As darkness falls I'll prove it in time to you
Ooooooh [x4]

All the way to whaler's cove, the country side and me
Every little thing still in its place
If it were that I was where I thought that I would be Surely I would know it in my bones

I came here not for love but for the possibility
Of setting free the love we knew for all of time
Don't you remember that I said that I would not forget
Your memory is safe with me
And you're heavenly

The only thing I know is I'm not sure
Where I left the keys to all the doors
And now that I am here I don't know why
Everybody looks the same

I will be the hunter, you can light the fire
Keep it burning until I return
As darkness falls I'll prove it in time to you
Ooooooh [x4]
