Well, she would never say she loved me
But this I somehow knew
There'd come a day, she'd leave me lonely
As I was sure the sky is blue

By the time I woke the mornin'
She was already up and gone

You're in my every memory
And I wonder is it me that you see
In the back of your mind
In the back of your mind

And though she's lost to me forever
Our secret will remain
There in the nights we spent together
On earth, we're bound by love in vain

'Til the sky above has fallen
We'll be together once again

You're in my every memory
And I wonder is it me that you see
In the back of your mind
In the back of your mind

And when the sky above has fallen
We'll be together once again

You're in my every memory
And I wonder is it me that you see
In the back of your mind
In the back of your mind

When the sky above has fallen
We'll be together once again

You're in my every memory
And I wonder is it me that you see
In the back of your mind
In the back of your mind

In the back of your mind
In the back of your mind
In the back of your mind
