All that's left are the movies
And we've seen them all before
After that there are the streets
From the city down to the shore

And then there are the stars
That spin around us shining down
There ain't nothin' to do, baby
In this one horse town, in this one horse town

Well, I'm loadin' up the wagon
And I'm heading west, tonight
And even though my sweet mama cried
I will make it, all alright

'Cause I've got this thing to prove
Just take a look around
There ain't nothin' to do, baby
In this one horse town

Well, I could wander to the farthest corner of the earth
But I'd probably feel the same
I'd just keep looking past what's already here in my heart
And it's as plain as day where I should've stayed
In this one horse town, whoa

Where the boulevards end are the beaches
And that's as far as you can go
Except the ocean, where the moon pulls the tides
From high to low

You know I looked for buried treasure
But there was none to be found
There ain't nothin' to do, baby
In this one horse town

There ain't nothin' to do baby
In this one horse town
Well I said, there just ain't one thing for me to do
In this one horse town, ooh yeah
