on the way to grey
I could hardly wait to see you again to feel your hands covering me til the storm is done what seemed to be the end was not the end at all when I hear the rain should I be afraid for my life?

why do you look at me that way?
I told you that I was too busy to see you I would never keep a secret from you is it over? I am fine thank you dearly for your time I'll be leaving

don't you cry
I'll be back soon
at least I'll try can't you see there is no time to think selfishly yesterday's gone, tomorrow's here can't turn back now
I won't quit
I still love you
I swear I always will
