

Remembering Never "Meadows"

i pictured a place that is and always will be heaven to the eyes ears nose and mouth but most of all my dying heart can soothe and regain its love and affection for all but especially you there's a special place knowing no end to me myself and whatever i become this thing inside that ticks away ticks slower with each coming day but this place reminds me i am loved but not wanted here
eyes sulk with the burden of never-ending tears i am loved but not wanted here pain is only the beginning which binds us all together the meadows somewhere will appear and everything will be all right
this place reminds me it reminds me there's a special place knowing no end
ticks away slower with each coming day this place reminds i am loved but not wanted here eyes sulk with the burden of never-ending tears
you are not loved or wanted here
