"Swimming Upstream"

can't still the world
cause it marches to your beat can't keep the salmon from swimming upstream
can't keep the flowers
from growing in the fields can't keep from you
what flows through me

chorus
i can't decide how i feel i can't disguise who is me i can't deny melody
meet me in an hour
on london bridge
oh holding you near (alleluia)

can't keep the sun
from rising in the early hour you kiss my hair
and i shiver in the dark my eyes following the river where it goes
if flows though me
i flow through you

building lights
they watch us shine
from afar
and the cars
they blink at us
cause they know
we float upstream
