"Small Kiss Of Light"

Follow the small kiss of light until it ends
Follow the path until it ends
Follow the broken ladder down, until you reach the bottom
Try to act appropriately, to what's new and what's ...

Every single word I say counts for two (even though it's few)
So fight back in anger and in harm
Reach my alarm clock to bark

A moment that's far away
Guerrilla war kind of stuff in your head
Don't go there anyway, for your own sake
Let's go to a better place

Imagine this chair
If it wasn't there (how would it be?)
'cause nothing would ever be the same
Except of the sounds of your steps

A moment that's far away
Guerrilla war kind of stuff in your head
Don't go there anyway, for your own sake
Let's go to a better place
