"Springtime"

Don't you love the springtime Where all the flowers grow so fast
The skye is oh so blue and the light is more effective

Two flew over, and one came back
The birds and the bees are satisfied with your love
And one came back
And two came out
They wanted to play a game tonight

You hide to save the light
you blew it up from the first time
you hide, you seek, you love, you bleed
you just want to kill forever

he said, when you get older you'll understand but now i am older and i still don't really get it i guess i'm just not old enough

You hide to save the light
you blew it up from the first time
you hide, you seek, you love, you bleed
you just want to kill forever
