Well. in our little house
There's always room
For all the friends
That help us through
These struggling days

And we never want for anything
That can't be had from one of them
It's better than mone
We're alive
We get by
You can spend the night
You can sleep right here

And we got heavy traffic on the stairs
With darlin' Sherrie over there and Sarah's back in town
Kim and Kay sit on the floor
While Zelda hides the closet doors,
Never to be found
See John smile and Mia sigh
Katie cries
Mia plays the violin.

This little world is all I need
And hey, this little world needs
Not much more to be a
Completely perfect world
We will be leaving soon
And we might never get back to you
But before we do
Goodbye and fare thee well

We're drinking up all of Eric's Gin
Waiting for all this weather to end
And we know it will

Now it's Jane and Sophie at the door
We rarely see them anymore
Kandi comes with Lou
Come on in
Where've you been?
Come on in

This little world is all I need
And hey, this little world needs
Not much more to be a
Completely perfect world
We will be leaving soon
And we might never get back to you
But before we do
Goodbye and fare thee well

Well, the neighbors have a little boy
They still put up with all our noise
And it's nice of them
Oh, Paris keeps the upstairs bright
Kafka ran away last night
We hope he comes back
He's our dog
Yes, I think he's gone
And that's too bad
He was a good dog

This little world is all I need
Not much more to be a
We will be leaving soon
And we won't never get back to you
But before we do

Ahh, hello big world
