Grace in light
Somehow I found you here
Torn from the hope and fear
Holds us inside
Pulled me out
Out from the world I've known
And all love was broken cold
Brought me here

From you one look
Just one look and everything is shattered
From you one word
Towers burn and fall, fall, fall

Just be still
Arms that surround like the sun
Faith in the life we've begun
It holds us inside

From you one look
Just one look and everything is shattered
From you one word
Towers burn and fall, fall, fall
From you one look
Just one look and everything is shattered
From you one word
Stars burn and fall and fall

Fires curl
Shadows surge
A hollow sound
That no one else can hear
But me in silent streams
Forever more we dream

From you one look
Just one look and everything is shattered
From you one word
Towers burn and fall, fall, fall
From you one look
Just one look and everything is shattered
From you one word

Stars burn and fall and fall
