"THE BODY MACHINE"

Is it right that it should be this good?
I'm feeling changes all the time

A special kind of beat I feel
Makes my pulse race, makes me reel
It spins me round and upside down, I feel the power
The turning of my life is measured by the hour
You make my day

Lucky is as lucky does
And thanks to you, I fell in love
I tumble down not knowing what I came here for It seemed my plans were always kept behind closed doors
You hold the key and unlocked me

Is it that it should be this good?
I'm feeling changes all the time
Early morning calls me back, I wake in another world
That others seem so hard to find

Make the most of what you have
Dancing time in rhythm pulls
You keep supplying energy, you're the body machine
They wish they could be like you
A perfect balance rarely seen

It's a dream

You've waited for so very long
I took the chance, I made you strong
I grow with you, you saw in me potential fire
And when I thought the peak was reached, you took me higher
You held the key that unlocks me

Is it right it should be this good?
I'm feeling changes all the time
Early morning calls me back, I wake in another world
That others seem so hard to find

Make the most of what you have

Dancing time in rhythm pulls
You keep supplying energy, you're the body machine
They wish they could be like you
A perfect balance rarely seen

It's a dream

Is it fine it should be this good?
I'm feeling changes all the time
Early morning calls me back, I wake in another world
That others seem so hard to find

Make the most of what you have
Dancing time in rhythm pulls
You keep supplying energy, you're the body machine
They wish they could be like you
A perfect balance rarely seen

Is it right it should be this good?
