It's dark the night is cold
I feel the chill and ask myself why
Why couldn't I see that it was to late for me
Tears on my cheek putting a stain in my face
There's nothing to do nothing to change
I'm tumbling down

You've been fading away since yesterday
But the fool in me wants so bad to turn back the time
So where did I go wrong?
I never sensed the truth
Believe in me
The darkest age has just begun

Time will show
If you did right to put your sails
Into the wind, over the sea, into the storm
I learned one more time
I've to think twice in what I do
I did my mistakes, don't got what it takes
I'm losing my mind

You've been fading away since yesterday
But the fool in me wants so bad to turn back the time
So where did I go wrong?
I never sensed the truth
Believe in me
The darkest age has just begun
Has just begun
The darkest age has just begun

You've been fading away since yesterday
But the fool in me wants so bad to turn back the time
So where did I go wrong?
I never sensed the truth
Believe in me
The darkest age has just begun
Has just begun
